More about Sun Life's Long-Term Disability insurance

Long-Term Disability insurance provides you with a monthly cash benefit to help pay for everyday expenses (such as mortgage/rent, utilities, childcare, or groceries) if a covered disability (e.g., back injuries and some chronic illnesses such as heart attack, cancer, or stroke) takes you away from work for an extended time.

- Begin receiving benefits—after your claim is approved—in as soon as 90 days (this duration is referred to as “elimination periods”).
- Receive a monthly benefit—after your claim is approved—for as long as you are still unable to work due to a covered disability—until you reach the Social Security Normal Retirement Age.
- Work with a certified rehabilitation specialist, when appropriate, to create a return-to-work plan that's right for you and that may include trial work days, partial disability benefits, or rehabilitation programs to help you get back to work and back on your feet.

How Sun Life's Long-Term Disability insurance can help

Mark was in his late-40s when he started experiencing blurry vision, and was diagnosed with partial blindness as a complication of diabetes. He was no longer able to perform his duties as a technology professional.

Fortunately, Mark took advantage of the opportunity to sign up for long-term disability insurance through work. After his claim was approved, he started receiving monthly benefits after he satisfied the elimination period and began to work with Sun Life on a transitional return-to-work plan. His employer agreed to make the necessary workplace accommodations to get Mark back to work. His long-term disability coverage helped Mark by:

- replacing a portion of his income while he was unable to work, and
- creating and implementing a return-to-work plan.

Having long-term disability insurance allowed Mark to focus on returning to work and not on his finances.
